

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A design data processing method is a method of processing hierarchically configured design data, comprises the steps of: a) obtaining 5 first design data of a predetermined rank of hierarchy; b) obtaining second design data of a rank of hierarchy higher than the predetermined rank of hierarchy; and c) combining the second design data to the first design data.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY